

Increase in minimal energy produced per hour over the year as a function of total energy bought

